

One-Stop for all Your Business Reading Needs

Why scroll from one site to the next to get all your information? The Business Reading Center is one of your exclusive PMI® membership benefits!

We listened to member feedback and heard you are tired of buying different subscriptions. So, we made it easy to access and explore over 1,700 global publications all in one place. That includes Entrepreneur, Forbes, Harvard Business Review, MEJB, New African and so many more.

Entrepreneur Forbes Harvard Business Journal MEJB NewAfrican

What it is:

The Business Reading Center is like a magazine rack only better. The publications are digital which means you can read from your phone, tablet, or computer. You can also open several publications in separate tabs in your browser all at once if you like. A cup of coffee is optional, of course.

How to access:

Because the Business Reading Center is a benefit for members of Project Management Institute (PMI), all you do is log in and this will bring you to the publication's page in the EBSCO host's database. You can then select an issue or article, even from years' past. Importantly, you can also search for a publication that is relevant to your industry or trade.
